Introduction

- AtliQ Hardwares operates as a global entity managing diverse regions, markets, and divisions.
- Sales Tracking is conducted in USD to evaluate annual performance across various customer channels
- This report provides a comprehensive analysis of the performances on AtliQ hardwares

Problem Statement

- AtliQ Hardwares is currently experiencing a significant performance gap where actual net sales are failing to meet established organizational targets.

- The primary challenge lies in identifying the specific geographic regions and product lines that are underperforming and hindering global expansion efforts.

Objectives

Primary Objective

- To perform a comprehensive variance analysis between actual net sales and established targets to identify performance gaps across the global organization

Secondary Objectives

- To evaluate regional and divisional performance trends to pinpoint high potential areas for business expansion
- To categorize product lines based on sales volume and growth rates to determine which offerings are effectively contributing to the company's strategic goals

Executive Summary

- Total net sales for AtliQ Hardwares increased substantially from $196.69M in 2020 to $598.88M in 2021
- India emerged as the primary revenue driver, contributing $161.26M to the 2021 net sales.
- New product launches in 2021 successfully generated $176.16M in revenue, while the PC division achieved a growth rate of 313.7%

Methodology

- To establish a data model, multiple datasets including sales, targets, and product information were integrated using Power Pivot in Excel

- To enable granular analysis, specific DAX (Data Analysis Expressions) measures were created to calculate key performance indicators

Discussion

Findings & Implications

- Amazon has solidified its position as the top individual customer, representing $82.09M in net sales for 2021
- The top five products by quantity sold reached a combined total of 19.00M units, highlighting a heavy reliance on core "Master" and "Gamers" product lines
- The Top 5 countries (India, USA, South Korea, Canada, and United Kingdom) accounted for $367.22M
- India was the only major market with a positive growth variance vs. targets

Conclusion

- The analysis of AtliQ Hardwares' global performance reveals that while the company achieved a significant revenue surge from $196.69M to $598.88M , it simultaneously faced a $54.94M shortfall against established sales targets.

- This project utilized Power Pivot to identify that success is highly concentrated, with India leading as the top market and the PC division emerging as the primary growth engine.
